PARTICIPANT PENSION BENEFIT APPLICATION
RETURN TO WORK POLICY

If you are receiving an early or normal retirement benefit:

- You must immediately notify the NEBF if you return to work in the electrical industry for forty (40) or more hours per month.

- If you are receiving an early or normal retirement benefit and you return to work in the electrical industry for forty (40) or more hours per month, your benefit will be suspended until such time that you actually retire. Any hours worked in covered employment after you return to work will be included in the calculation for your eventual pension benefit. No deduction will be made in your benefit on account of your return to work.

If you are receiving a disability benefit:

- You must immediately notify the NEBF if you return to any substantial gainful employment or if you are no longer disabled.

- If you are receiving a disability benefit and you return to any substantial gainful employment, your disability benefit will cease and you will no longer be considered disabled for NEBF purposes.

Failure to notify the NEBF of subsequent employment:

- If you return to work in the electrical industry (or return to any work if you are receiving a disability benefit) and do not inform the NEBF, when the NEBF becomes aware of such employment, the NEBF will presume that you are working for forty (40) or more hours per month (or that you are no longer disabled) and will suspend your benefit. You will be required to refund any improper benefits received while employed and the NEBF is authorized to deduct any amount owed from your future pension benefits. If you are receiving a normal or early retirement pension benefit when you return to work, the amount of the deduction may be up to 100% of all monthly benefits due you for the first three months and 25% of all monthly benefits thereafter. The deduction may also continue against your spouse's benefit after your death. You may rebut any presumption made by the NEBF by supplying acceptable information concerning your work status and you can appeal any suspension under the claims and appeals procedures found in the Summary Plan Description.

Applicable Department of Labor Regulations may be found in Section 2530.203-3, Title 29 of the Code of Federal Regulations. The NEBF's rules may be found in Section 15 of the Plan of Benefits for the NEBF.

Joint and Survivor Annuity Benefit

Section 16 of the Plan of Benefits for the NEBF provides that a married participant shall receive, instead of the monthly benefit to which he/she is entitled, a reduced monthly benefit for as long as he/she lives, with the provision that after his/her death, one-half (1/2) or three-quarters (3/4) of such reduced monthly benefit shall continue to be paid to his/her eligible spouse so long as such spouse survives him/her, unless the participant elects, in writing, with the written consent of his/her spouse, not to receive such a "joint and survivor annuity benefit". If the participant and his/her spouse elect not to receive the "joint and survivor annuity benefit", then the participant will receive a "single life benefit", which will provide for a larger monthly pension payment for the participant's life, but upon his/her death, payments would cease and there would be no payments to the participant's surviving spouse. The NEBF will send a form to elect or waive the "joint and survivor annuity benefit" at a later date.

Military Service

If you have ever served in the Armed Forces, you may be entitled to certain service credit(s) for that time. Submit clear copies of military papers.

The National Electrical Benefit Fund (NEBF) Trustees have adopted a resolution under which all benefit applications received on or after May 1, 2003, will be processed for direct deposit payments exclusively. Therefore, NEBF applicants will be required to receive their monthly benefit payments in the form of direct deposit to a financial institution.

7A Direct Deposit Authorization

I hereby authorize the National Electrical Benefit Fund (NEBF) to initiate credit entries to my account listed below or successor account. In the event a credit is made to my account in error, I authorize NEBF to make a correcting entry, provided I am notified of the adjustment. This authorization is to remain in effect until NEBF has received written notification from me terminating it.

Please complete Section 7A. Take the form to your bank or financial institution with a request that they complete Section 7B.

Direct Deposit

What is it?

Direct Deposit is also known as Electronic Funds Transfer (EFT). It is a system in which funds are electronically transferred from one account to another. In this case, your funds -- your monthly NEBF benefit payments -- are electronically transferred from NEBF to your account in your financial institution. Your financial institution can be any bank, savings and loan, credit union, or investment firm which is a member of the National Automated Clearing House Association (NACHA) system. This system is the same one used by over 15 million Social Security recipients to directly deposit their social security benefit payments into their account.

What are the advantages?

It's safe. Because it is an electronic transfer of funds, it eliminates the possibility of mail delays, misdirected mail, or lost or stolen checks.

It's convenient. There is no need to endorse a check. It avoids having to visit the bank to make a deposit, and it eliminates the possibility of holds being placed on checks until they clear.

It's worry-free. It assures that your monthly pension benefit payment will be available to you on the last banking day of each month, rather than the first day of the following month or even later as is often the case with paper checks.

How much does it cost?

It's free! There is no cost to you for this service. In fact, many people who take advantage of Direct Deposit save money or even make money. They save money since there are no transaction fees for direct deposits as there sometimes are for teller based deposits. They sometimes make money since the direct deposit is made earlier and therefore can earn more interest.

How does it work?

Every month your NEBF benefit payment is automatically deposited to your account. NEBF participant service representatives and NEBF computers do the work for you. You can just sit back and enjoy your retirement.

What will NEBF send me?

You will be informed whenever there is a change in the amount of your monthly pension – but you will not receive a monthly payment stub. The deposit will be reflected on the statement you normally receive from your financial institution.

What happens if I change banks?

You simply complete a form giving us the name and routing number of your new financial institution and your new account number. While this information is being verified by your financial institution, you will receive a paper check.
Incomplete or inaccurate information may delay the processing of your NEBF Participant Pension Benefit Application.

I hereby apply for a pension from the National Electrical Benefit Fund. All the information provided in this application is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. I understand that if I make a willfully false or fraudulent statement material to this application, or at any time in the application process, or furnish fraudulent information or proof material to this claim, benefits paid solely on account of my false statement will be denied, suspended or discontinued, and that the Trustees shall have the right to recover any payments made to me because of a false statement. Further, I understand that any false or fraudulent statement made during the application process may subject me to sanctions or prosecution under Federal and State law.
